

Semicolons ;

- * Separate two independent clauses
 - Used like a period

I like goldfish; when I went to the store, I bought five of them.

- * Separate items in a list if those items are unusually long or already contain punctuation

I have three main classes this term, including math, which is difficult; English, which is boring; and Spanish, which is a lot of fun.

Koalas, bears, and tigers

* however, consequently, therefore

I like goldfish snacks; however,
I didn't say "snack" and my teacher thought I meant real goldfish.